They draw a simple picture/symbol to represent each place (e.g., buses at the bus station, a movie ticket or projector for the movie theater, cars in a row for the parking lot, sports equipment for the sports center, books for the library). Set a time limit for the drawing phase.
- Focus students on the questions below the map and the example answer. Students read the rest of the questions and write the answers in their Workbooks according to the map they have drawn. Monitor and help where necessary. Check by eliciting example answers in open pairs (one student asks a question from Activity 4, and another student answers according to his/her map).

More confident students can read their sentences to the class.

Extra activity: see page T103

Optional activity

- Students complete the Unit 4 Song worksheet from Teacher's Resource Book 3 (pages 36 and 41).

OBJECTIVES: By the end of the lesson, students will be able to recognize that the letter c is pronounced with the /s/ phoneme before the letters i, e, and y, and they will have asked and answered questions.

● TARGET LANGUAGE

Key language: city, ice cream, circus, exciting

Additional language: Cindy, Lucy, find a time

Students point and follow the words. Play the CD again. Pause for students to repeat. Practice the words with c chorally if necessary. Students practice saying the sentences in pairs. Monitor and check pronunciation.

Notes: Spanish-speaking students sometimes pronounce the c before e or i with the /θ/ phoneme, a habit that can last into their later years. If your students speak Spanish, it is a good idea to review this rule as new words with this spelling pattern come up.

This sound/spelling rule also applies to the letter g, which is pronounced with the /dʒ/ sound before i and e (e.g., giraffe, general, gym).

Key: b one cent, c ten cents, d twenty-five cents, e one dollar, f two dollars, g five cents

SB42. ACTIVITY 2. Do the math.

- Write the following simple sums on the board: $10 + 5 = 15$, $50 - 30 = 20$. Read the sums aloud (Ten plus five equals fifteen, Fifty minus thirty equals twenty). Students repeat. Teach plus, minus, and equals. Dictate five or six sums. Students write them down in their notebooks. They check and do the math in pairs. Elicit answers. Ask the student giving you the answer to say the whole sum in English first.

- Focus students on Activity 2. Ask a volunteer to read the first sum, using the pictures of the coins in Activity 1 to help (Ten cents plus fifty cents plus twenty-five cents plus one cent equals eighty-six cents). Elicit two or three more of the sums in the same way (without the answers). Students work in pairs to find the answers to the rest of the sums. Encourage them to say the sums aloud in English as they work. Monitor and help as necessary. Pairs compare their answers with other pairs.

SB42. ACTIVITY 3. Listen and check.

- Play the CD for pairs to check their answers to Activity 2. Play the CD again. Pause after each sum to elicit the answers. Write them on the board.
- Focus on the answers to numbers 3 and 5 and point to the Look box. Explain that prices in English are stated with dollars first, then cents. Point out that the dollar symbol is written at the beginning, but that we say dollar(s) after the amount of dollars (e.g., One dollar, seventy-five, not Dollar one, seventy-five). Explain/remind students that if the price is more than a dollar, you do not need to add "¢" at the end.

Key: 2 41¢, 3 $1.35, 4 34¢ 5 10¢

CD 2, 14

1. 10¢ plus 50¢ plus 25¢ plus 1¢ equals 86¢
2. 25¢ plus 10¢ plus 5¢ plus 1¢ equals 41¢
3. 50¢ plus 50¢ plus 25¢ plus 10¢ equals $1 and 35¢
4. 50¢ minus 10¢ minus 5¢ minus 1¢ equals 34¢
5. 50¢ minus 25¢ minus 10¢ minus 5¢ equals 10¢

SB42. ACTIVITY 4. Read, look, and answer.

- Ask students in L1 if they sometimes save up to buy something they really want. Check comprehension. Read the text about Peter aloud and check comprehension of buy. Students work in pairs. They add up the value of the coins Peter has in order to see if he can buy the book. Elicit how much change Peter gets if he buys the book for $5.

Key: 1 $5.30, 2 Yes

WB42. ACTIVITY 1. Do the math.

- Tell students to open their Workbook to page 42. Focus them on Activity 1 and ask what they can see in the photographs. Review price and ask How much is the (computer game)? for each item. Students work in pairs to write the words and prices in numbers 2–5. Point out that they need to do some subtraction for number 5.

Key: 2 $16; 3 $15, $6; 4 comic book, $60, $61; 5 kite, $6, $8

WB42. ACTIVITY 2. Look at the menu. Read and answer.

- Focus students on Activity 2 and elicit what they can see (a menu). Check understanding of menu and of the foods.
- Students work in the same pairs as for Activity 1. They study the problems and the menu and answer the questions.

Key: 1 anything that costs $3.95 or less (e.g., fish, rice, and salad)
2 $4.35 (four dollars, thirty-five), anything that costs $1.65 or less (e.g., a burger)

SB43. ACTIVITY 5. Ask and answer.

- Tell students to open their Student's Book to page 43. Focus them on the Look box on page 42 to remind them how to say the prices.
- Elicit what students can see in the pictures in Activity 5 (some pants, a book, a watch, some socks, a digital camera, a pen, a ball, some sneakers, an MP3 player, a T-shirt). Say each word. Students repeat. Ask questions about four or five of the items, using How much is/are ... ? (e.g., How much are the pants? How much is the book?). Point out that we use How much is ... ? for the singular items (e.g., book, watch, camera) and How much are ... ? for the plural items (e.g., pants, socks, sneakers).
- Demonstrate the activity. Invite two students to read the example speech bubbles. Continue practicing around the class in open pairs.
- Students work in closed pairs and take turns asking and answering. They decide which items to ask about. Monitor and listen for correct use of How much is/are ... ? and the prices.

SB43. PROJECT. Make a store. Go shopping.

- Focus students on the photograph. Direct them to the first activity instructions. Hand out the large piece of paper, scissors, etc., to each student. Tell them they can make a toy store, a clothes store, or a food store / market. They draw the outline of a store window and write a name at the top. They add at least eight items to their store. Students can draw pictures of items or cut them out from magazines/ads and stick them in the store window. They decide the prices (in dollars) and write a price label for each item. Give students a time limit for this activity. Monitor and help/support where necessary.

- Direct students to the second part of the activity instructions. Divide the class into pairs. Tell them to look at their partner's store window picture and choose five items they would like to buy. Say Write a shopping list. You want five things. Point to the shopping list in the photograph and demonstrate by writing a shopping list of your own on the board. Students individually write a shopping list of five items.
- Using your shopping list on the board, demonstrate the dialog from the Student's Book, using one of the students' stores. Repeat until students understand what to do. Tell them when they "buy" an item, they should write the price on their shopping list.
- Students work in their pairs. Student A holds up his/her store. Student B goes shopping for the items on his/her list. Make sure students use the dialog in the book and note the prices when they buy something. Swap roles so that the store owners can go shopping.
- Students add up what they spent. Elicit who spent the most/least, etc.
